Acronym Directory available on DEQ website

BATON ROUGE – The Louisiana Department of Environmental Quality has compiled a list of commonly used environmental acronyms and it is now available on the DEQ website. Understanding the technical terms and abbreviations connected with environmental regulation and protection can be difficult. The Acronym Directory is an alphabetical list of acronyms commonly used by DEQ and other state agencies as it relates to matters concerning environmental protection and DEQ-related operations. This directory should make it easier to decipher documents and technical writing.

The directory can be found on the DEQ website at <http://www.deq.louisiana.gov/portal/Portals/0/news/AcronymDirectory.pdf> It is located on Communications Section page under News on the website and it is the first pick under Quick Pics on the left hand side of the home page.

The Acronym Directory will be updated with new acronyms as DEQ receives them.
