

WBRZ has once again partnered with the Capital Area Corporate Recycling Council for our sixth annual "Recycle Your Electronics" event, sponsored by Furniture Mart.

Friday, January 10, 2014

5am - 1pm

Furniture Mart

8440 Airline Highway, Baton Rouge, LA 70815

(Airline Highway & Florida Avenue)

The following items will not be collected: televisions of any type, appliances, furniture, and copiers. Businesses with donations must call CACRC at 225-379-3577.

Working gadgets will be refurbished and sold to the public, discounted for low-income families, or given to schools and community partners. Electronics that cannot be reused will be stripped and their parts recycled.

If you miss the event, individuals can still bring old household electronics to be properly recycled to CACRC's warehouse located at 1400 Main Street in Baton Rouge through Friday, January 17, at 4pm.

CACRC is a non-profit, operating without state funding. The Council accepts public donations year round and also drives across the state collecting unwanted electronics and recycling them.

R2 is one of only two accredited certification standards that exist for electronics recyclers, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. In implementing this rigorous "Reuse, Recover, and Dispose" material management strategy, the CACRC is the only R2 certified recycler in Louisiana.

Link to WBRZ information on recycling electronics - <http://www.wbrz.com/news/wbrz-s-recycle-your-electronics-day-is-january-10th/>

WBRZ has once again partnered with the Capital Area Corporate Recycling Council for our sixth annual "Recycle Your Electronics" event, sponsored by Furniture Mart.

Friday, January 10, 2014
5am - 1pm
Furniture Mart
8440 Airline Highway, Baton Rouge, LA 70815
(Airline Highway & Florida Avenue)

The following items will not be collected: televisions of any type, appliances, furniture, and copiers. Businesses with donations must call CACRC at 225-379-3577.

Working gadgets will be refurbished and sold to the public, discounted for low-income families, or given to schools and community partners. Electronics that cannot be reused will be stripped and their parts recycled.

If you miss the event, individuals can still bring old household electronics to be properly recycled to CACRC's warehouse located at 1400 Main Street in Baton Rouge through Friday, January 17, at 4pm.

CACRC is a non-profit, operating without state funding. The Council accepts public donations year round and also drives across the state collecting unwanted electronics and recycling them.

R2 is one of only two accredited certification standards that exist for electronics recyclers, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. In implementing this rigorous "Reuse, Recover, and Dispose" material management strategy, the CACRC is the only R2 certified recycler in Louisiana.